Once in a blue moon a car like this comes along—a design so advanced in performance, so beautifully balanced and so road-worthy that it stands out above every other car on the highway.

It has a solid, sure-footed way of going that makes driving safer and more pleasant on any road. And you feel a very special sense of security in its rapid-fire responsiveness to your touch on the wheel, brakes and accelerator.

You can see that the '56 Chevy is a stand-out for style. But until you have driven one you're missing the best part of the news—the fact that Chevrolet is the smoothest, solidest, most wedded-to-the-road automobile you ever bossed. Try it and see.

You get more car when you buy it... more dollars when you sell it! Chevy has the highest resale value of the leading low-priced models!

Construction of New Motel Expected To Start in Sept.

Construction of Warren's new $300,000-plus motel on Pennsylvania avenue, west, is expected to begin the first part of September.

Co-planners Dan Dodge and Orrie Beebe reported that Architect Oliver Johnson would be in Harrisburg today seeking final state approval of the plans.

Preliminary drawings of the 44-unit, two-story structure call for a brick exterior along the lower deck and a white paneled top.

The building will also house a coffee shop seating 53 and a banquet hall with facilities for 200 persons.

Midtown Motors, the Ford agency presently located on the proposed site next to the American Legion along Pennsylvania avenue, is rushing completion of its new underblock building west of the three-lane highway above Dairy Queen in North Warren. Midtown expects to move Sept. 1.

The old Pennzoil station at the motel site will then be razed. The new double-decker situated 35 feet back from the street, is expected to be completed in six months.

WATTSBURG FAIR

The seventy second annual Wattsburg Fair, will be held at the widely known fair grounds, south east Erie county, Tuesday, August 28, and continuing day and night until midnight, Saturday, Sept. 1. Wattsburg Fair has spanned nearly three quarters of a century of agricultural achievement. During these years, man's progress in agricultural endeavor and education surpasses in achievements any thousand years in human history. The progress of the community and the tri-state area will be evidenced in every department of the fair, including home making, live stock, mechanical equipment, and in the work of vocational agriculture and 4-H clubs. The program for the fair beginning Wednesday afternoon includes light and heavy weight horse pulling contests. Night races are the evening feature.

SPECIAL DOUBLE FEATURE SHOW OPENS TODAY AT LIBRARY THEATRE

Walt Disney's "Davy Crockett and The River Pirates"

Resuming the role he helped make famous, Fess Parker again portrays Davy Crockett in Walt Disney's new frontier adventure film in Technicolor, "Davy Crockett and the River Pirates." Wearing his coonskin cap and carrying Old Betsy, his trusty rifle, Parker recreates daring exploits in the legendary life of the fabulous Tennesseean.

In "Davy Crockett and the River Pirates," the king of the wild frontier meets another monarch—mighty Mike Fink, king of the river, who is portrayed by Jeff York. They compete in an epic keelboat race from Maysville, Kentucky, to New Orleans. Later they team up to wipe out a pirate gang along the broad Ohio, outlaws whose villains terrorized the entire frontier.

Mirrored in Our Times

Countless parents breathe easier this year and watch the approach of September (long known as the month when dread polio was most apt to strike) with considerably less fear than was evidenced last year and many years before.

Thanks to the Salk vaccine, now pronounced by medical authorities as being 60-90 per cent effective in preventing paralytic polio, most of our children have been afforded the long-sought after protection. It has also been made public that sufficient vaccine is now available to doctors to inoculate all ages—and it's a wise parent who also becomes vaccinated. One shot given now, before September rolls around will provide sufficient protection to last until the second is due. This means that mothers and fathers—as well as older children who did not receive Salk vaccine previously can now participate in the great program. We also remind that children who have not been taken to their doctors for the final inoculation should be given prompt attention. No need to leave that last stone unturned.

From 1789, when polio was first described by a British physician—until 1953 when Dr. Jonas E. Salk reported hopeful results in preliminary investigations in the matter of polio vaccine, the disease has struck time and time again in its most deadly and crippling forms.

As a public service feature, the Warren Drug Store, serving Warren families since 1891, urges that you have your children vaccinated now by your physician. Call your doctor for an early appointment. Polio incidence during September and October is high.

Twice a year—the locale is the scene of large crowds swarming into local stores—Dollar Days are planned again—with over 40 merchants ready to participate. This evening's Times-Mirror will show the way to the best busy available! Read the ads—you'll save as you've never saved before. And, by all means, save on your Times-Mirror subscription—the only paper in many homes, the one that comes first—but the political picture will get more and more attention from here on in. Golf is still hot and it's still anybody's guess who the 1956 champs will be.

The men have plenty of topics for discussion right now. Baseball still comes first—but the political picture will get more and more attention from here on in. Golf is still hot and it's still anybody's guess who the 1956 champs will be.

When the men talk about the best looking clothes in town—chances are they just left The Style Shop where, incidentally, Dollar Day bargains will be highlighted this week-end. If you're too busy to shop for yourself it's safe to send the little woman!

It's impossible to note in a column, the numerous big values that will become conversation pieces—but we again remind you to read this evening's big edition carefully—make a list and do your saving on Dollar Days. When the excitement dies down, we'll start introducing some of the new fall items. School Days are approaching—and summer is nearly over (if you look fast, you probably saw summer)—most of us just got the screens in—and now we can worry about the darn storm windows again.

TV got quite a rest for a few weeks, but during the past rainy spell, it became active again. We found that we're still amazed by Dunninger—and are still trying to place the voice of John Beresford-Tipton, who strews casher checks for a million dollars hither and yon. And we've already told the young fry—that homework will soon be replacing the evening show. Somehow, routine has fallen by the wayside since June, and we're about ready to try some just for size.

Stevenson Prepared to Toss Political Tradition Aside In Filling Ticket Second Place

By JACK BELL

Chicago (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson is prepared to toss political tradition aside in filling second place on the ticket if he wins the Democratic presidential nomination.

Stevenson, the party's 1952 nominee, is supremely confident he will get the top nomination on the first or second ballot at next week's convention here.

This view, of course, is disputed by supporters of Gov. Averell Harriman of New York and several "favorite son" candidates working for a deadlocked convention in which the lightning might strike one of them.

If he is worried by the threat of such a deadlock, Stevenson does not show it. He already is reviewing and refurbishing his position on major issues in anticipation of a vigorous fall campaign against President Eisenhower.

He has convinced himself in primary campaigning in all sections of the country that Eisenhower's popularity is overrated. He believes the President can be beaten.

With this in mind, he is looking ahead still further to January. He has told friends he is more interested in getting a running mate who will make a top notch vice president than in satisfying the usual requirements of geography and voter appeal.

His view, like that of some Republicans, is that a vice presidential candidate seldom adds much strength to the ticket.

What he wants, he has told friends, is a vice president who will be the President's personal representative in Congress—a force for the White House legislative program.

Beyond that, he apparently wants a man who could do the same sort of security council, globe-trotting and ceremonial job for him that Vice President Nixon has done for President Eisenhower.

To get the kind of man he wants, Stevenson is willing to waive geographical considerations. He is attracted, for instance, to Democratic Senator Hubert Humphrey of nearby Minnesota. Humphrey's friends were the first to open headquarters here for the No. 2 spot.

Stevenson also has had some warm praise for Mayor Robert F. Wagner Jr. of New York as an executive—he thinks has accomplished a great deal without bombast. He likes the cut of the jib of Democratic Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts.

Stevenson's strategists, who pay more attention to the political implications than their candidate does, do not discount the possibility that Senator Estes Kefauver of Tennessee might wind up in second place on the November ticket.

As a former presidential candidate who withdrew, Kefauver has a delegate following for the vice presidential place greater than any of the other possibilities can muster.

The Stevenson strategists obviously would be happy to lure Senator Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas onto a Stevenson ticket. But Johnson is unlikely to give up his job as the senate's Democratic leader for the No. 2 spot.

Use Trash Box To Make Your Yard Look Much Neater

Probably the most universal eyesore around the house is the area outside the kitchen door.

The reason, of course, is that that's the handiest place for trash cans and barrels. But no matter where they are placed, they create a problem of neatness.

A practical solution to the problem—one providing greater utility as well as neatness—is a wooden receptacle to house the various cans, barrels, or boxes. Anyone handy with a hammer and saw can build such a unit to suit his own requirements easily and inexpensively.

Basically, the trash can receptacle is a rectangular box. Beyond that you can add your own refinements and design your own needs. Sliding doors on top, for example, provide the easiest accessibility, although a hinged door will suffice. One-by-one strips, nailed slightly farther apart than the width of the lumber used for the top doors, will make good runners. Two sets of runners should be installed so that both top doors will slide the full width of the box.

Hinged swinging doors on the front provide for the removal of filled trash cans. These doors should be slightly wider than the cans so that room is provided for easy access. For a fancier touch, a curved platform can be attached at the inside bottom of the door as a base for the can. Then when the doors are opened, the cans swing out.

Being outside, the unit should be protected from the weather with a preservative. Painting it the same color as the siding or trim of the house will make it blend with the surroundings. If a knotty grade of western pine is used, remember to treat it with a good knot sealer prior to painting.

SWITCH GOLFER

Sharon, Mass. (AP)—Switch hitters in golf are rare but 15-year-old Dick Wright is more than rare he is in a class by himself. He plays his woods lefty, but switches to the right side for his irons—except No. 5 and 9—and when he reaches the green he putts lefty. The Sharon Country Club caddy shoots a pretty good game too despite, or because of, his switch hitting.

Diamond Grangers Hear of Plans for New Hall They Hope To Erect Soon

At the regular meeting of Diamond Grange Tuesday evening, the charter was draped in memory of Mrs. Adda Heeter, recently deceased member. In addition to being a member in her own right, she was the mother of Mrs. Steen Shaffer, and sister of Herman Hannold, also members of Diamond unit.

Third and fourth degrees were conferred upon Mr. and Mrs. John W. Freeland, Tona.

Members responded well to the call for donations to be sent abroad as part of the Grange's "Foreign Aid" program. If any other members have articles of clothing to contribute to this worthy cause, they are asked to contact Mrs. Ralph Rapp, home economics chairman, 1556-R, or call Master Lyman Clements, 3784-M, and arrangements will be made to pick them up.

Master Clements announced he has organized a baseball team composed of local youngsters ranging in age from 60 to 12 years, and the Grange voted to sponsor the group. The boys have played two games and have another scheduled this week, weather permitting. Mr. Clements is manager of the team, with Gerry Dorrison as assistant.

Ralph Rapp, who has been working on plans for the new Grange Hall, presented them for study by the committee appointed to work with the master on the building project. They will report their findings to the entire membership at the next meeting and a vote will be taken. Blueprints will then be drawn up and submitted to Harrisburg for approval, and it is hoped actual work may be started within a few weeks.

It was announced the sunback dress and jacket submitted in the sewing contest was won by Mrs. Gladys Nelson in both Diamond and Warren County Pomona. It now goes to State Grange, where it will be judged along with other Pomona entries and all are hoping Mrs. Nelson may be adjudged the winner.

Those who are planning to enter canned or frozen food contests are requested to present their entries at the next meeting.

Stockings Or Not?

BY ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

STOCKINGS or not in the summer?

This is a question many women past 40 ask, as soon as the weather turns warm.

It can't be settled categorically. Some mature women have very youthful skin. They tan with ease and the skin on their legs has remained firm. Certainly these women have no more need to wear stockings on casual occasions, if they wish to go without, than their daughters do.

Women who have conspicuous veins in their legs and women who wear elastic stockings for medical reasons know the answer before they ask. They hope only that someone will give them an excuse to do what they know they ought not to do.

Women whose skin remains plaid throughout the summer and women who are severely underweight ought to decide about wearing stockings on the basis of whether the comfort is worth the price they will pay in attractiveness.

Some women who wear longer dresses and who have no circulation trouble may find that knee-length stockings that stay up by themselves give the benefits of comfort and looks. But, if one's skirt hops up above the stocking line when one sits down, one ought not to wear them.

Pregnant women should, in no case, wear stockings with elastic at the knees.

Women who don't feel the need of stockings should wear nylon foot-covers to protect the insides of the shoes and their feet. They should not wear socks with pumps.

TONER GATHERING

During the business meeting, the following were elected as officers: President, Jennie Lyon; vice president, Wilma Toner; secretary, Gertrude Toner; treasurer, Kate Lyon; historian, Nellie Blak.

The historian reported one marriage, Jane Toner to Norman Long on June 30, 1956. Other places represented were Hubbard, O.; Niagara Falls, N. Y.; Erie, Warren, North Warren, Russell, Lander, Starbuck, Irvine and State College.

Next year's reunion will be held at the same place on the first Sunday in August.

New Life Master Of Bridge World Is Known Locally

It will interest bridge players and other friends in this area to learn that Mrs. Marshall Nevins, of Olean, was among individuals attaining Life Master rating as the result of wins in the summer nationals of the American Contract Bridge League, recently concluded in New York City.

Mrs. Nevins is a member and currently vice president of the N.Y. Penn Unit of ACBL, and has played in many Warren and area tournaments. Paired with Nat Gerstman, of Buffalo, she was co-winner of the National Fair Championship in Flight B (under 300), and picked up 60 coveted red points to make her a Life Master.

Thus, she becomes the second player in the entire area to receive the honor. Dr. Robert H. Israel of Warren having been the first.

Also known here is the quartet of Buffalo-Toronto players winning the National Mixed Team of Four Championship: Agnes Gordon and Robert Freedman, Buffalo, Doug Drury and Mrs. S. Bowdin, Toronto.

According to local players participating in this year's summer nationals, attendance broke all records, with approximately 400 tables split into 20 to 25 sections of 18 tables each.

Players from Warren, Erie, Corry and Jamestown placed first in at least one of the sectional

Mental Air Conditioners Defeat the Summer's Heat

THERE are a lot of things you can do on a hot, hot summer day to help you forget the heat, at least for a little while.

You can take the children swimming. Instead of sitting on the sidelines while they splash away happily, forget your hairdo, climb into your bathing suit and splash right along beside them.

Fill the bird bath and you'll feel refreshed just watching the birds going back for dip after dip.

Plan a cool looking, inviting evening meal and wait until the sun goes down to serve it outdoors or on a porch.

Put on the coolest looking dress in your closet, tie your hair back with a ribbon and see if you don't feel cooler just by looking fresh and pretty.

DON'T TALK ABOUT THE WEATHER

IGNORE the weather report in the paper that tells you how hot it is going to be today or how hot it was. When the temperature is so hot that it is even hotter if you know exactly how high it has gone.

Don't be ashamed of being lazy. On a scorcher of a day do only the things you really have to do. Slide through those as easily as possible.

Don't mention the heat to everyone you meet. Talking about the weather always makes it seem worse.

If you can, spend at least part of the day doing something that is so absorbing you don't have time to worry about the heat.

Summer lasts just so long. But it will seem longer if you fight it. Make up your mind to take it in your stride.

Lander Property Becomes Methodist Parish House

Lander—Twelve members were present for the official board meeting of the Methodist church, held at the parsonage, when unanimous action was taken to designate the community house as "the parish house" in the future.

This name, it was felt, clearly defines the real objective of such a building, is the title used by all denominations, and, as such, the structure will continue to serve the entire community in the future, as it has done in the past.

The meeting was opened with scripture reading by Rev. Gustav Erickson and prayer by Ernest Lindell. Routine reports showed all objectives met to date. Mrs. Fred Ludwick, lay delegate to the annual conference, reported on the group insurance plan accepted by that body. The pastor stated the application for Social Security for Mrs. Ann Carlson, janitress, has been completed under the current plan.

Installation of a furnace in the parsonage was discussed and Donald Ludwick, Ernest Lindell, Donald Hagberg and Arthur Hitchcock were named as a committee to make arrangements for the project.

Rev. Erickson reported the entire band and all officers of the Jamestown Salvation Army will participate in a free concert at 8:00 p. m. August 26, with Captain Ormo speaking in the local church and all persons urged to be in attendance.

To conclude the meeting, Mrs. Erickson served refreshments.

Highlight Events At Chautauqua

Donald Dickson, accomplished tenor known to many in area musical circles, will be soloist with the Symphony at 3:00 p. m. Sunday.

A special Youth Night program, honoring Chautauqua young people, is scheduled at 8:00 p. m. Monday in the amphitheatre.

The same evening, the Opera Association will stage a performance of DeKoven's "Robin Hood" in Norton Memorial Hall. On Friday evening, Verdi's "Rigoletto" will be performed.

Walter Hendi will be piano soloist with the Symphony at 4:30 p. m. Tuesday, when an All-Mozart program will be given under the baton of Henry Aaron, assistant conductor. Mr. Hendi will also repeat his solo performance of "Rhapsody in Blue" in another All-Gershwin "pop" concert at 8:30 p. m. Wednesday.

Another musical event will be a joint recital at 8:30 p. m. Saturday by Mary Judd, soprano, and Hugh Thompson, baritone.

Patricia Berlin, mezzo-soprano, will be the orchestra's soloist at the same hour Saturday evening.

At 7:30 p. m. Tuesday, the 33rd annual Old First Night exercises will be held, with reenactment of ceremonies and traditions dating back to 1874.

Other special annual events of the week will be WCTU Day on Thursday and Grange Day on August 18.

WCS DINNER-MEETING
Lander—Methodist WCS held its monthly meeting in the community house, with Mrs. Donald Ludwick presiding and Rev. Gustav Erickson giving the devotion. Mrs. Merrill Livezey gave a talk on "Women"; Larry Ludwick played an instrumental solo; and Mrs. Viola Firth gave a missionary reading.

Dinner for this month was served by Mrs. Viola Firth, Mrs. Gerald Falcomer and Mrs. Jay Minsdale.

MAY R. STONE GROUP
Members of the May R. Stone Group of First Presbyterian church will be guests of Mrs. George Nelson at her summer home at Quigley Park on Lake Chautauqua on Monday. The hostess, assisted by Mrs. W. E. Leuthold and Mrs. E. T. Wedell, will serve a picnic dinner about six o'clock, the committee providing coffee and dessert.

4-H CLUB NEWS

ENJOY PICNIC
Lander—4-H girls from Lander and Russell, with their leaders, Mrs. Ira Stufflebeam and Mrs. W. G. Lyon, from here, Mrs. Benton Barstow of Russell, and the county extension leader, Mrs. Geraldine Johnston, enjoyed a picnic at Hearts Content Tuesday. There were 28 who made the trip by bus, driven by Mrs. Clarence Carter of Bear Lake, and all were delighted with a walk through the woods to see the big trees.

Flood Damage Is Holding Up Play For Championship

Women's championship matches at the Conewango Valley Country Club have been temporarily halted, it is announced, by ravages of the brook which ruthlessly tears out temporary bridges almost as soon as they are installed.

In this week's ladies' match, the Mosts Tournament was won by Mrs. John L. Blair in Division one; Mrs. Gaston Hamilton in Division two; and Mrs. Harry Schmidt in the last section. Mrs. Hamilton also won second low net for her group and Mrs. Schmidt counted low net points.

Low gross was won by Mrs. Homer Culbertson with $9 and she was credited, also, with first low net points for her division.

Other nets were Mrs. W. C. Fuchthart, second in Division One; Mrs. Robert Donaldson, first for Division Two; and Mrs. William Walker, a consistent winner, this time with second low net for the third division.

Awards for the July Ringer were made, with Mrs. John Carter low gross; Mrs. T. W. Fisher, Carol Blackman and Mrs. Harry Schmidt, net winners in their three divisions of play.

EAGLES' AUXILIARY PLANNING PICNIC

The regular meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Conewango Aerie 313, F.O.E., was called to order by President Ruth Still, and plans were made for a picnic to be held at 6:30 p. m. Committee members will be members whose names start with "M".

Ann Masterson's name was called "for the good of the order" and, since she was not present, the award will be carried over to the next meeting, September 4. To conclude the meeting, the committee served lunch.

Games on the lawn and refreshments, including two large birthday cakes, were enjoyed by the following:

The Snows were married in the former parsonage at Panama by the Rev. Theodore Brown, who was among anniversary guests; the bride's attendant was her sister, Mrs. Lillian Gustafson, who, with Lillian Snow, cut the four-tier anniversary cake. Another daughter of the couple, Mary Brown, was unable to attend. The celebrants have one grandchild, born Sunday.

Plans Progressing For Youngsville's New Catholic Edifice

Plans are going forward for a successful campaign to raise an estimated $100,000 to help finance the new Roman Catholic church on North Main street, Youngsville for St. Luke's parish, it was announced by the Rev. Father Edward J. Jacobs, at Tidououte today.

Father Jacobs, who drew the plans for the church structure for St. John's parish at Tidououte, says he is already at work on the preliminary drawings and hopes to have them ready for submission to the Bishop in the near future. The church will be of Celorec block with brick veneer, approximately 110 feet by 40. The rear portion will be in a T-form to provide extra room for meetings and other activities. He contemplates a modern structure, since the old-type Gothic is considered prohibitive due to the costs. In addition to the church proper there will be a social hall for parish activities. The type of heating has not as yet been decided upon.

The property already acquired in Youngsville is in North Main between Fourth and Fifth streets, comprising an acre and a half of land.

Hollywood's Self-Imposed Code Creates Crisis on French Set

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—No matter what Hollywood rules it will never get 80 million Frenchmen to see anything immoral about a double bed.

Nor perhaps 100 million Americans, for that matter.

Be that as it may, Hollywood's self-imposed censorship code forbids the shooting of scenes showing a couple in a double bed, and this restriction nearly created a crisis in Franco-American movie relations during the making of a recent picture in Paris.

The film, "The Ambassador's Daughter," was written, directed and produced by Norman Krasna. It is a comedy about a young GI who falls in love with a girl who turns out to be—who else but the daughter of America's ambassador to France. A plot has to have some connection with the title. Or does it?

Krasna figured he could save a tidy $400,000 if he shot the picture in Paris and used an all-French crew and cast with the exception of a few imported American stars. He did, too.

But there were complications. The first came when actor John Forsythe, playing the American soldier, gulped and blushed when he glanced into a mirror and presumably saw the undraped bosoms of some night club chorines.

"Why should he look embarrassed?" argued the cameraman. "That's how the girls perform in a night club."

The cameraman also couldn't understand why Krasna wouldn't let him turn his lens on the chorines and put them in the film. Patiently, the producer explained the scene wouldn't pass Hollywood's litmus moral test.

"What's immoral about a bosom?" demanded the cameraman, unconvinced.

In a later bedroom scene in which Adolphe Menjou and Myrna Loy played the ambassador and his wife, Krasna ordered the double bed removed from the set and replaced by twin beds.

At first the French crew thought Krasna was joking. Then they began to suspect it was a plot to ridicule their nation by spreading the falsehood that French husbands and wives used twin beds.

"All married couples in France sleep in double beds," they insisted. "It is the only way."

When Krasna explained again that Hollywood's strange morality code required twin beds, one Frenchman observed:

"These Americans—they must all have soiled minds."

The twin beds proved an expensive item. None could be found to match the rest of the 150-year-old furniture in the bedroom set, and a new pair had to be built.

Still Hoping

At the same time he reassured British intentions to use force if necessary as a last resort. "I must make plain: We cannot agree that an act of plunder which threatens the livelihood of many nations shall be allowed to succeed."

Britain holds that Egyptian President Gamal Abdel Nasser's July 26 nationalization of the Suez Canal Co. is a menace to her lifeline to the Middle East oil supplies and her far Eastern commonwealth partners and colonies.

The War Office said the airlift was postponed for "at least 24 hours."

In the last few days an air-sea armada has been assembled along Britain's south coast to begin the transport of troops and supplies.

Six Bristol Britannias, each capable of carrying 100 men, and nearly 200 smaller planes were to start the first wave of the airlift at dawn tomorrow with movement of the headquarters brigade of the 3rd Infantry Division.

At least four troops were to leave in the next six days. There was no indication whether these sailings also were affected.

Meanwhile, diplomatic and other activity ranged far and wide as the Aug. 16 opening date of a 24-nation conference on international control of the Suez approached.

Indonesia—the 20th nation to line up—agreed to attend the conference called by the agreement of Britain, France and the United States.

Iran, another nation that has accepted, explained in a statement by its foreign minister that Iran considers Egypt was acting within her sovereign rights in nationalizing the canal, but declared Iran's vital interest was in "securing free passage in the Suez Canal."

In Moscow, French Ambassador Maurice Dejean again called on Soviet Foreign Minister Dmitri Shepilov.

U. S. Charge d'Affaires John Jernegan, senior diplomat in Rome, discussed the crisis with Italian Foreign Minister Gaetano Martino.

Beatty Junior High School promptly at 6 a. m. Sunday.

Fifteen Jayces and fathers have volunteered to drive the boys out. Emblem Oil Company is supplying gas for the trip and drivers are reminded they may "tank up" at any of the three Warren Emblem stations Saturday.

The Warren Times-Mirror's own Sparky Saylor, photographer deluxe, will be on hand this weekend to record the event for posterity. The downhill event will be staged Sunday, with trial heats to familiarize the boys with the track Saturday.

As an added filip to the Warren entourage, Miss Warren County in the person of Miss Betty Ann Pasquino will also be on hand for the contest.

The Newman family will stay at the Portage Hotel while in Akron and George will bunk with the other contenders at a nearby Boy Scout Camp.

Burning Mine

The miners were trapped when the fire, caused by a short circuit, melted an elevator cable and sent the lift crashing to the bottom of the pit. Other escape routes also were cut off. Twenty-five miners escaped aboard the elevator before it was lost.

Rescue workers removed nine dead and six injured miners from upper levels. Another 230 were in levels 2,500 to 3,300 feet down. About 30 more were believed somewhere in the sealed-off passages. If they were not already dead, the closing of the passages doomed them to suffocation.

The burning pit is one of the largest in Marcelline, a small town just outside the industrial city of Chariot.

A crowd of about 1,000 grim-faced relatives and friends huddled at the mine entrance to watch rescue operations throughout the chill summer night.

Ex-President

discussion here—at his scheduled appearance before the Platform Committee later in the day.

Truman said he had not changed his views on the civil rights issue. To emphasize this he held up a booklet entitled "To Secure These Rights" which he said he had published in 1947, while he was President.

Truman was asked if he believes the Democrats could win on a program of "moderation." Harrison has blasted at Stevenson as the candidate of "moderation." Truman replied:

"The Democrats will win on the program that will be adopted."

Truman was asked whether, from the practical political point of view, how many votes he might be able to influence outside the Missouri delegation.

Truman said "I don't know that I can influence any."

Truman met with newsmen just two hours after his arrival in this convention city.

Mr. Card died August 2 in Jamestown General Hospital after an illness of only five days. Born in Spring Creek on August 28, 1873, he was a son of L. D. and Martha Stoddard Ayling Card. A retired dairy farmer, he was a Seventh Degree member of the National Grange and a 60-year member of Stedman Grange.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Stella Ayling, Magnolia, and Mrs. Henrietta Schruise, Panama; six grandchildren and four great-grandchildren; several nephews and nieces. When these charges have been satisfied, Robishaw Jr. will face the resisting arrest count before Justice Williams.

The justice said Robishaw Jr. is on parole for a morals charge in Warren County and his father is on parole for two counts—maintaining a public nuisance and cruelty to animals.

In the afternoon, Sheriff Linder and Deputy Don Allen Jr. arrested Mrs. Robishaw Sr. at her home. The justice quoted officers as saying she tongue-lashed Constable Vroman when they picked her up. Lenora C. Jordan, Lena H. Schaffer, welfare aides, and the sheriff took her children to Warren to be put in a home. Of the 13 children in the family, five young ones, ranging from six to thirteen years old, lived at home Robishaw Jr. also had resided there.

The welfare aides, the justice said, had been trying to pick up the children because of reports of irregular activities and conditions at the house.

Reports from all officers who had been there said the house was in a "filthy condition" unfit for human habitation. One put it this way, "I wouldn't keep a drove of hogs in there."

Ambulance Service Will Be Discussed Tonight

A "critical" meeting on the problems of providing ambulance service to Warren and vicinity will convene at 7 p. m. tonight at the hospital.

Representatives from special committees of borough council and hospital board are expected to meet with county commissioners and the undertakers.

It was expected that some sort of joint ambulance service plan, perhaps to be handled by the undertakers, would be presented. Failing that, it was supposed that some outside group would be asked to take over the services if financial assistance for the project can be worked out.

Warren undertakers have expressed a desire to drop the costly project which they have run for years.

ASKS $200,000 DAMAGES
Jamestown Sun. The Town of Ellicott, the Village of Falconer and Chautauque County have been named defendants in a $200,000 suit brought by Jerome McFarland, 34, of West Everett street, Falconer, shot and wounded by Ellicott Police Officer Elmer Widlund last May. McFarland was wounded in the left hand and leg and side when he fled from Widlund on Homestead street in Falconer. Officer Widlund said McFarland, believing there was a warrant out for him, McFarland was shot as he ran from Widlund.

McFarland is bringing suit for $75,000 each against the county and the Town of Ellicott, with $50,000 for personal injuries and $25,000 for false arrest and imprisonment. He is bringing claim against the Village of Falconer for $50,000 for personal injuries. The wounded man said there was no warrant for his arrest on May 12, the day he was shot, and a case for which a warrant had been issued in Gowanda had already been settled. ### Penn'a Industries Big Users of Gas For Heat Processes

Pennsylvania's metals, appliance, textile and general equipment industries have one thing in common, besides being among the Keystone State's leading enterprises. They're all big users of natural gas for heat processing.

In a report just issued by the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, it is revealed that 3,000 industrial customers of Pennsylvania gas companies last year used a billion, 551 million therms of the fuel, or 32.3 per cent more than in 1954.

In the Middle Atlantic states as a whole gas use climbed 27.3 per cent to a billion, 872 million therms, while the number of customers in the region rose 14 per cent to 13,800. Pennsylvania led the area in terms of added gas use for processing, and New Jersey led in customer increase.

The trade group explained that a therm is equivalent to 100,000 British thermal units. A Btu is a universal measurement of heat required to raise the temperature of a pound of water one degree. The natural gas used by local industry is the same fuel now employed for cooking, heating, water heating, refrigeration, clothes drying and incineration in millions of American homes.

GAMA's industrial equipment division pointed out that there now are more than 26,000 different uses of gas in industry, and there are very few items of popular consumer goods that are not touched by gas at some stage of production.

The fact that natural gas is clean-burning, and can be precisely controlled is given by engineers as a reason for its increased use as a processing tool. Adoption of gas also has improved many industries' community relations by helping to eliminate air pollution problems caused by combustion of other fuels.

Community Church School Arranges Annual Outing

The storm which struck this area Saturday evening washed out roads, and rail fences in the farmers' pastures were reported washed out in seven different places.

A bridal shower honoring Mr. and Mrs. William Lee Benedict was held in the Garland community center Saturday evening, with about 100 in attendance.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernal Holmes, Torpedo, have returned home after vacationing for a week in Canada.

Jehovah's Witnesses, representing the Watch Tower Bible Society, were over the hill Monday distributing literature.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cressley, Pittsfield, are parents of a son born Monday in the Warren Hospital.

Food Poisoning Can Be Prevented By Menu Planning

Food poisoning becomes a reality every year to many people. Faints, vomiting and extreme weakness are symptoms. Most tragic outbreaks of food poisonings are those that affect large groups of people who have eaten together at public gatherings.

Miss Rosella M. Kreger, extension home economist of McKean County, points out that though seldom fatal, food poisoning can cause severe distress and discomfort. And it's not necessary either. You can help prevent food poisoning by careful planning of menus. Avoid cream puffs, eclairs, cream and custard pies, and creamed meats or shellfish. These foods are especially susceptible to spoilage.

If you do serve shellfish, poultry or creamed mixtures, be sure they are kept at refrigerator temperature—30 degrees or below. Or else keep them steaming hot—170 degrees or hotter.

Salad dressing is another potential danger food. Potato, chicken, egg and fish salads should be kept in the refrigerator until it's time to serve them.

There is one kind of food poisoning, botulism, that is usually fatal. Fortunately, it doesn't occur often. When it does, home-canned beans, peas, or corn are usually the cause. If these nonacid foods have not been canned properly under pressure, they may spoil. Even a tiny taste is dangerous. So always boil home-canned beans, peas and corn 15 minutes before you taste and serve them.

Former President and Batch Of "Favorite Sons" Appear to Hold Key to Dem Nomination

By HAROLD OLIVER
AP Staff Writer

Actual Stevenson's chances for a second Democratic presidential nomination on an early ballot have turned up sharply since Sen. Estes Kefauver withdrew in his favor a week ago today.

But Gov. Averell Harriman of New York, Stevenson's leading opponent in the first ballot test at Chicago next week, says he's in the race to stay to give the Democrats what he calls a "fighting leader."

Former President Harry Truman and a batch of "favorite sons" appear to hold the key to an early decision.

With 696 1/2 of the National Convention's 1,372 votes needed for nomination, an Associated Press tabulation of pledged votes and preferences expressed in polls shows this lineup:

Stevenson, 480.
Harriman, 164.
Others, 321.
Uncommitted, 427.

Before the surprise withdrawal of Kefauver, who had 164 1/2 votes in the AP tabulation at the time, Stevenson had 371 and Harriman 136.

Some of the gains made by Stevenson and Harriman since have come from Kefauver delegates and some from rechecks of previously uncommitted delegates.

It remains to be decided how 17 1/2 Kefauver votes are to be classified.

Kefauver, who withdrew and said he would support Stevenson on the interest of party unity and victory, predicted most of his delegates would swing to the former Illinois governor. Harriman disagreed and his backers stepped up their efforts to win new strength for the New Yorker.

James Finnegan, Stevenson's campaign manager, predicts Stevenson will have more than 600 votes on the first ballot and will win no later than the second.

Frank McKinney of Indiana, former Democratic national chairman and a Harriman leader, believes Harriman will have "in the neighborhood" of 450 first ballot votes.

Harriman supporters obviously are hoping Truman—who has professed neutrality—will come out with a public plug for the New York governor.

Whichever way Truman does go, when the time comes, is certain to have an impact on the Democratic delegates.

CHICKEN CROP SMALL

The State Agriculture Department at Harrisburg reports Pennsylvania Farmers this year are raising the smallest number of chickens in 26 years. A federal-state survey showed the total number of chickens raised in the state this year, excluding broiler-fryer chickens, was 22,503,000.

FINE D IN JAMESTOWN

Jamestown Sun: Sidney Barrett, 23, of Sugar Grove, Pa., was fined $20 on a limited speed charge. Reports show he was the driver of a car that entered the city at a speed of 50 to 55 miles per hour on Route Avenue at 3 a. m. Sunday. Officers said he lost control of the vehicle which went over a curb and traveled 62 feet before hitting a light pole. Nancy Hiller of 79 Institute Street, a passenger in Barrett's car, was critically injured.

FIRE AT FLUVANNA

Mrs. Blanche Grimes, 27, of Townline Road Fluvanna, was treated at Jamestown General Hospital for burns of the entire body following a fire at her home Tuesday afternoon. Her oldest son, Howard A. Grimes Jr., 10, received face and arm burns in the fire. The hospital said both were "fair." Fluvanna firemen said Mrs. Grimes was priming a heater with gasoline from a coffee can when an explosion caused the stove to blaze up. Firemen said Mrs. Grimes' husband, Howard, a truck driver, was working in the North East area, when the explosion occurred. William Carlson, Town of Ellery police officer, took Mrs. Grimes and her injured son to Jamestown General Hospital.

State Authority Personnel Is Shaken Up by Governor

Harrisburg, (AP)—Gov. Leader Wednesday shook up committees of the General State Authority. The governor named Secretary of Property and Supplies John S. Rice chairman of the committee on architects and engineers. Rice replaced Democratic Senate Leader Dent.

Dent, however, was retained on the important priorities committee. Republican House Leader Smith was dropped from both the committee on priorities and architects and engineers.

The priorities committee was reduced to two members, Dent and Sen. Taylor, Republican president pro tempore of the Senate. In addition to Smith, Democratic House Leader Readinger was dropped from that committee.

Dent was retained as a member of architects and engineers' committee. State Treasurer Weldon B. Heyburn, Republican, was added to that group.

Secretary of Highways Joseph J. Lawler replaced Rice as chairman of a committee which recommends extension of time when necessary for completion of projects.

Secretary of Internal Affairs Genevieve Blatt, Democrat, was made chairman of the personnel committee, replacing Heyburn. Dent also was dropped from that committee.

House Speaker Andrews, Democrat, replaced Aud. Gen. Charles R. Barber, Republican, as chairman of the insurance committee. Barber remained as a member. Miss Blatt also was placed on that committee and Rice dropped from it.

Readinger was named chairman of an arbitration committee, with Smith and Lawler also placed on that group.

1956 Peach Queen Will Be Crowned Aug. 18th in York

Harrisburg — A new Pennsylvania Peach Queen will be selected in a peach dessert baking contest in York on Saturday, August 18, as a feature of Pennsylvania Peach Week which will be observed August 16 through 25, the State Horticultural Association announced today.

Miss Marjorie Kann, a sophomore at Shippensburg State Teachers College, is the present peach dessert baking champion. She won the title in August 1955 with a peach chiffon pie baked in the annual contest held in Reading.

Contestants for the 1956-57 title will be homemaking students in Pennsylvania high schools. The Agricultural and Home Economics Extension Service of the Pennsylvania State University is cooperating in the selection of county champions to compete at the state level on August 18.

The contest is being arranged by the Fruit Industry Committee of the horticultural association. The committee plans peach week kick-off meetings for growers, distributors and retailers of peaches in Pittsburgh and Philadelphia this week.

They report that all varieties of Pennsylvania peaches are maturing about 10 days late this season due to the cold, wet spring. The State's heavy Elberta crop will not reach markets, they said, until possibly August 25, or even later for some sections. Just ahead of them will be mid-season varieties, including Sun High, Hale Haven, Summer Crest and the early Elberta types.

Earlier varieties of Pennsylvania peaches now available include Jubilee, Red Haven and Triogen, all popular kinds for home canning and freezing.

Both Diplomats and Military Worried Over Suez Canal Dispute

By SAM DAWSON
New York (AP) — The Suez Canal dispute—still confined to a war of words and nerves—offers new problems today for the fast expanding shipping industry.

A great shipbuilding boom is adding tonnage at a steady clip, but still falls short of potential demand, shipping men say. The canal dispute adds new tension and uncertainty.

Even before the Suez move to nationalize the canal, oil, metal and shipping industries were joined in a race to expand oil and ore carrying fleets to keep step with the big postwar industrial growth in the United States and western Europe.

This week the world's largest tanker is being launched in Japan—the 84,730 ton Universe Leader. A sister ship and two slightly smaller ones will follow. And the Japanese Ministry of Transportation says it plans to build two atomic powered super tankers by 1966.

The American Bureau of Shipping estimates that five million gross tons of new merchant vessels will be added to world fleets this year, to equal the peacetime record set in 1954. In all 627 ships are on order in the world's shipyards.

In the 10 postwar years the world's fleets have been increased by 4,758 new ships, totaling 33,577,000 gross tons, the bureau reports.

Nearly half of these have been tankers, emphasizing the great growth in the world's consumption of oil.

Shipping men say that the advent of the new giant tankers and

New Travel TV Program Draws Nice Criticism From Mercer

By CHARLES MERCER
New York (AP) — Sometimes the world seems pretty much divided between home movie lovers and home movie haters. Home movie lovers usually are those who make films to be shown in the living room. The haters are those members of the home audience who have to watch Junior feeding a bear in Yellowstone National Park.

The only reason for mentioning that I personally am a home movie hater is the fact that I've gone overboard for a television program of home movies. It's called Bold Journey (ABC-TV, Monday evenings). The theory is that since I like it practically anyone would. Bold Journey is a weekly program of movies filmed by ordinary people who go to extraordinary places. The host, John Stephenson, interviews the weekly guest. Even the commercials are refreshingly different.

Last Monday's guest, for example, was Mrs. Hjordis Kittel Parker, a Sierra Madre, Calif., housewife, who journeyed far into the northern Lapland regions of Norway and made some fascinating films of those strange little descendants of an unknown race.

Since Bold Journey enters the lists of professional entertainment, it must be judged professionally to a certain extent. On that basis, Mrs. Parker's sections on a royal wedding and the Winter Olympics, which preceded her journey to the far north, could have stood some cutting in this viewer's opinion. I wanted to see more puffin birds and reindeer and details of the interesting lives of the Laplanders.

That's personal interest, however. Doubtless there are viewers who are more excited by royal weddings. Some of the charm of the program lies in the fact that it retains a certain "amateur" tone. Thus it was not unpleasant to hear Mrs. Parker talking in the way most of us talk, saying things like, "Norwegians like their mountains and in winter all the people leave their towns and go into the mountains and ski." Not succinct, but a pleasantly vague generality.

Christmas Trees To Be Displayed In Competition

Harrisburg — Christmas trees are to be displayed in competition for the first time at the 1957 Pennsylvania Farm Show here next January 14-18, the Farm Show Commission announced today.

Arrangements have been completed by the commission and representatives of the Pennsylvania Christmas Tree Growers Association whereby six varieties of trees will be judged at the Farm Show. Premiums totaling $246 will be awarded by the commission. Five prizes will be offered in each of the six classes, the premiums being $12 for first place, $10, $8, $6 and $5 for the remaining four places, according to Dr. William L. Henning, chairman of the Farm Show Commission.

A state champion Christmas tree will be selected by the judges. It will be displayed on a rotating platform in the west lobby of the Farm Show building, suitably decorated.

"Production of Christmas trees is one of the fastest growing farm industries in Pennsylvania," Secretary Henning declared. "We lead all other states in production of nursery-grown, symmetrical trees that are in such great demand. It is only proper that the growers be given opportunity to display their products and show the public the characteristics of high class, quality Christmas trees. The display will have great educational value."

Trees will be displayed in a special outdoor, roofed enclosure near the west entrance to the ground floor of the Farm Show arena where they can be kept fresh during the week of the show.

For the first year, entries will be limited to the following varieties of Christmas trees to be grown on land of the exhibitor: Austrian Pine, Red Pine, Scotch Pine, White Pine, Douglas Fir, and Norway Spruce. Entries will be limited to trees five to seven feet high. Judges may eliminate from the competition any trees which they deem unqualified.

Austin, Tex. (AP)—Recently an Austin man, seemingly in considerable pain, exhibited in a local court how he had to wear a heavy brace for a claimed back injury. A few days later, having lost his suit for damages, the man sold the brace to a second hand store for $3.

Dr. Albert G. Friend, public health engineer for Caribbean Sea programs, is a native of Clintwood, Va.

Suez Canal Dispute Is Still Confined to a "War of Words"

New York (AP)—A winding 100-mile ditch—already growing obsolete for the bigger ships that a swelling volume of world trade demands in its haste—today worries businessmen as well as diplomatic and military brass.

The Suez Canal dispute has its dollar-and-cents side for U. S. business. The crisis threatens to add another twist to the U. S. consumer's cost of living by raising the price of many imported products.

American businessmen, necessarily making their long-term plans, must weigh the risks of three outcomes:

Egypt's nationalization of the canal could bring war—pulling the rug out from under a prospering peacetime economy.

Or it could lead to a stoppage of traffic, cutting off for a short time many commodities and materials that U. S. manufacturers need. Later they would get them by the long and more expensive sealanes around Africa. This would add burdens to an already heavily loaded merchant fleet and raise the costs of importing the goods and materials.

Or it could bring higher canal tolls, adding to the most of things Americans use—rubber tires and tin cans, black pepper, tea and bulgur, metal products made of manganese tempered steel—and perhaps even fuel oil and gasoline, if European petroleum prices should soar from being cut off from Mideast oil except by the long sea route.

None of these things may happen. A peaceful solution, keeping the canal open at going rates, may be found. Even then there's the added chance that as taxpayers Americans directly or indirectly may have to pay part of the costs of deepening the present canal or dredging a new one.

The present ditch is too shallow for the latest huge oil tankers, just as are some American ports. The long way around Africa is too slow for the modern business pace and too costly for modern profit margins.

American oil companies with concessions in the Mideast have another worry—the obvious restlessness of the Arab nations as they weigh Nasser's chances of seizing the canal and using its tolls to build a dam on the Nile. Nationalization of property owned by aliens can be a contagious idea.

HAL BOYLE'S COLUMN

By HAL BOYLE

New York (AP)—Some things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

That the American working girl is growing older. In 1940 the feminine work force averaged 32 years of age. Today the figure is 39.

That in a contest to pick the nation's most heroic dog, seven dogs named Lassie were nominated—But not a single pooch named Fido, Rex, Rover or Buster.

That no wood, fully protected from fungus growth, will ever decay—and that a tree's resistance to disease, like that of a man's, is affected by heredity.

That if you need a pep slogan, here is one from Emerson: "Nothing great was ever achieved without enthusiasm."

The Americans eat 7 to 10 million pounds of pistachio nuts annually.

That many long-distance trucking firms now require their drivers to take a 10-minute road break every 100 miles or so—for safety's sake.

That the opera star with the most American name is Claramae Turner, the contralto. Incidentally, she designs her own costumes.

That the Chinese philosopher Shen-mung, who lived 27 centuries before Christ, said "Tea is better than wine, for it leadeth not to intoxication. It is better than water, for it does not carry disease."

That the Kiwanis Magazine warns "It is a mistake to think that if you lead a double life you'll get twice as much out of it."

That it costs 50 million dollars a year to pick up the trash dumped along major U. S. highways by litterbugs.

That the tombstone of a Turkish gentleman buried in Istanbul in the 13th Century reads: "He had a sad and sorry life, full of never-ending strife, because of the nagging of his wife."

That there are far more stars in the skies than there are people on earth. There are billions of stars in the Milky Way alone.

That the instatment plan, an American institution, has spread behind the Iron Curtain to Poland and Hungary. Unfortunately, a Hungarian making less than $200 a month has to put up $345 as down payment on a phonograph costing him $1,000.

That it was Maxie Rosenbloom who said, "Women will be as pleasing as liquor when they learn to improve with age."

LETTERS TO EDITOR

Dear Editor:

We would like to express the feelings of the majority of Warren. The problem of what to do has greatly increased.

No wonder the teenagers find recreation in other towns. If there were something for them to do in Warren, they wouldn't resort to recreation elsewhere.

As long as a place is available for the teenagers—why isn't it open? We realize that when a dance is held it isn't successful—BUT—if they were well organized they would be "a hit." When dances are well-planned they are successful and well attended.

What we need, we believe, is something like a youth center where dancing and recreational games could be enjoyed. If such a place were to open it would keep the teenagers off the street.

We don't mean to sound ungrateful for what Warren offers, but with a little action on the part of adults and the co-operation of the teenagers would create better citizens out of our teenagers.

Your truly,
Interested Teenagers
(Ten Names Attached)

Pennant-Hungry Braves Have Tough Series Ahead With the Hot Cardinals and Redlegs

By ED WILKS
The Associated Press

Milwaukee's pennant-hungry Braves, their mound staff hurtling with Ace Bob Buhl on the sidelines, open five fateful days in the pressure-packed National League race tonight with their second two-night doubleheader in 24 hours.

The Braves, who haven't grabbed the brass ring since 1948, have only a two-game cushion as they take on the St. Louis Cardinals at County Stadium tonight, then dive into a four-game series with the pressing third-place Cincinnati Redlegs.

The fourth-place Cardinals split a two-night pair with the Braves last night, winning 3-2 in 10 innings after a 10-1 thumping. A sweep would have eased Milwaukee's situation considerably, since Brooklyn's runner-up Dodgers were dumped 8-5 by Pittsburgh. The Redlegs, however, belted the Chicago Cubs 8-2, climbing to within 6 percentage points of the Braves and 2½ games of Milwaukee.

Philadelphia, edging to within 5 points of the Cards, made it six in a row with an 8-3 job on the New York Giants.

In the American, Mickey Mantle slugged his 38th home run—for his best one-season total in the major—as New York hammered Washington 12-2 and regained an eight-game lead. Second-place Cleveland was knocked off by the Chicago White Sox 7-6 on Sherm Lollar's 14th-inning home run.

Boston moved within 6 points of the Tribe, beating Baltimore 7-2 as Ted Williams, hitting instead of spitting, walloped his 13th home run to break a 2-all tie in the sixth. Detroit defeated Kansas City 8-7.

Milwaukee Manager Fred Haney subbed Lew Burdette for rookie Taylor Phillips in a gamble for the sweep in the nightcap. But Herm Wehmeier fouled it up with a four-hitter and singled home the winning run himself.

Rookie Bob Trowbridge handled the Cards with a six-hitter for a 2-0 record in the opener. Del Crandall, Johnny Logan and Joe Adcock made it easy with home runs—two by Joe who added his 27th in the nightcap. Bob Blaylock was the loser.

Wehmeier, now 7-8, gave up Adcock's third home in the second inning and the tying run in the seventh on Bill Bruton's squeeze bunt—but he snapped Hank Aaron's hitting streak at 25 games. Wally Moon, who homered in the opener, smacked a two-run triple in the first inning of the nightcap as the Cards tagged Burdette with his seventh defeat in 20 decisions.

Frank Thomas, whose error gave the Braves two runs in the first, set things right with a three-run homer in the Pirate first off loser Roger Craig and the Bucs took it from there. Red Munger, a 37-year-old righthander, won his third with relief help in a three-run ninth.

Warren Elks Beat Bradford By 7-1 Score

The Warren Elks made it five wins out of their last six starts in Penn-York League competition when they defeated the Bradford Bruins in a seven-inning contest at the State Hospital diamond last evening. The score was 7 to 1 in the make-up game and assures the locals a spot in the playoffs which will be announced in the near future by President Lyle Nelson, of Frewsburg, who was a spectator at the game.

Lopez was on the mound for the Elks, holding the Bruins to five hits, a two-bagger by pitcher Quinn being the only extra-base bingle. Moniak and Lopez each had two hits for Warren, and Drexler's three-bagger was the highlight of the battle. Lopez had six strikeouts.

Plans are being made for another game Saturday at the Hospital diamond, but because of the Kiwanis Benefit program at War Memorial Field, the details have not been completed.

The score by innings:

Stormy Star Gives Huge Boston Crowd Another Big Show

Boston (AP)—Ted Williams reacted to his $5,000 spitting fine with a temper-soothing home run while Boston fans started fund drives for him, stormed the turnstiles and cheered.

Williams, at his best in the spotlight, crashed a game-deciding home run and a single in last night's 7-2 Red Sox verdict over Baltimore.

The boos of some fans—which had prompted Ted's expensive display of salivary contempt Tuesday—were smothered by the repeated roars of the 30,338 Fenway Park "Family Night" customers.

Williams, the great slugger, hammered his 407th major league homer far into the right field seats. He reacted like the showman he is to the unexpectedly large throng on hand to see the stormy star.

Club owner Tom Yawkey, who imposed the record major league fine on Williams, was among the onlookers as Ted edged Boston to within half a game of second-place Cleveland.

The Williams' reaction was typical. When he spat July 20 on Joe Cronin Hall of Fame night, he followed it up with a homer, double and single good for four runs batted in the next day.

While fans cheered his every move at the park, a Massachusetts legislator filed a bill in the Massachusetts State House to prohibit obscenity and slander by fans toward athletes. Offenders would be fined $50.

Before the contest he repeated his vow he would spit again if there was provocation. Afterward he left the park early before newsmen were permitted in the Sox clubhouse.

Brown Scores First Round Knock Out Over Ohio Battler

Chicago (AP)—Henry (Toothpick) Brown of Philadelphia did not give fans much time to settle in their chairs last night before he knocked out L. C. Morgan of Youngstown, Ohio, in 1:54 of the first round of a scheduled 10-round lightweight bout at Chicago Stadium.

Brown, annoyed by Morgan's flicking left jab, unloaded with devastating swiftness halfway through the opening round. He hammered his opponent with a whistling right to the body and followed up with a left hand shot to the jaw.

Morgan, ranked No. 9 among lightweights, slumped to the floor and was struggling feebly to rise when the referee tolled the 10 count.

Brown weighed 135½ to 137½ for Morgan.
Morgan was a 2pl favorite earlier but a late switch reportedly favored Brown 7-5 at ringtime. He didn't disappoint.

Young Driver Is Winner of $100,603 Stake at Goshen

By OMLO ROBERTSON
Goshen, N. Y. (AP)—A mining engineer and a rosy-cheeked Ohio driver, combining money and knowledge of horses learned at the knees of a U. S. cavalry officer, today basked in the glory of winning their first Hambletonian.

Leonard Buck, owner of the All-wood Stables of Far Hills, N. J., stepped into the 1954 Lexington yearling auction ring and paid $35,000 for a brown son of Scotland named the Intruder.

Yesterday, as a fitting climax to the mining engineer's knowledge of equine blood lines, Ned Bower of Ravenna, Ohio, celebrated his 33rd birthday one day early as he drove the colt to a surprise victory over 19 other 3-year-old trotters in the $100,603.98 stake.

For Buck it was success in his second try at trotting's show piece. His Kimberly Kid was fifth back of Helicopter in 1953.

But for Bower, who seven years ago was getting $175 a month as a groom for veteran Frank Ervin, it was triumph in his first shot at the buggy whip derby. It was worth about $6,000 to young Bower under the customary contract in which the driver gets 10 per cent of the winner's purse.

After the first heat, which Vallant Rodney won in 2:03, it appeared as if Bower should have kept his ace in the barn. But the "kid" came back with drives that would have done credit to the sport's greatest reinsmen as he twice brought The Intruder from off the pace to win in the final strides.

Great Britain imports one-half of its food supply and two-thirds of its raw materials.

Pitching — Herm Wehmeier, Cardinals, allowed just four hits, ending Hank Aaron's hitting streak at 25 games, and singled home the winning run for a 3-2, 10-inning decision over the first-place Braves, who had won the first game of the twin-night double-header 10-1.

Hitting — Sherm Lollar, White Sox, drove in three runs and had three hits, including tie-breaking home run in 14th inning, in 7-6 victory over Indians.

Field of 93 Ready To Fire for Title In Tam O'Shanter

Chicago (AP)—Golf tournament pros today started their search for the rainbow's end in the $50,000 winning pot of gold in Tam O'Shanter's "World" championships. A field of 93 will fire in the first round of the 72-hole sweepstakes over Tam's exacting 6,915-yard landscape, knowing that it will take four days of sub-par tension-filled play to capture the richest award in golf.

The total purse is $104,200 with second place worth $10,000, third $5,000, winner's share is accompanied by an optional contract of 56 exhibitions at $1,000 each and all expenses paid. Last year, Julius Boros' "World" championship brought him $106,000.

There is also a $15,000 melen to be cut by a field of 28 women pros, headed by Patty Berg, seeking her fourth straight "World" title; Louise Suggs, winner of last week's All-American; U. S. Women's Open champion Kathy Cornelius and the No. money winner, Marlene Bauer Haage.

Certs and Texas Jump Opposition

Certified Electric and Texas Lunch hammered out wins in City Softball League play last night. Certs pounded New Bakers, 11-2, on West Side Diamond and Guiffre's took the brunt of a 17-9 lacing at the hands of Texas on Memorial Field.

Koebly was big man for Guiffre's, smashing out a homer as one of the loser's 14 hits. Berdine rapped himself a triple and double. Shortstop Murphy slammed a double and single for Texas.

The Lunchers had three big innings, scoring five in the second, four in the fourth and four more in the seventh. Big time for Guiffre came in the sixth when five runs were pushed across.

Bartholomew and Bell connected for doubles in the Certs' romp. The team scored a run for each of its 11 hits.

Leftfielder Massa got three singles in five trips and Bartholomew came through with a pair.

New Bakers lone tallies came in the top of the eighth when they fought two scores. Certified's big innings were in the sixth when five scored and eighth when four scored.

Mahan and Layfield Paired at Stateline

Jamestown—Luckless Stateline Speedway rebounds from last weekend's rainout with a pair of 25-lap features and an Emory Mahan-Dean Layfield match race to play co-starring roles on this Saturday's program.

Hard put by the siege of ill weather that first pushed its inaugural far behind schedule and has now washed out one card and dampened another, the Cortwright Road track returns to action with the finest of late model drivers and stock cars.

In Layfield, the swaggering, wisecracking fender-buster from Wellsville, Stateline presents possibly the most exciting driver on the circuit. Mahan, his opponent in their showdown duel, is the skillful and popular little jockey from Warren, Pa.

Others in the 30-car field will be Jamestowners Joe Sauner and Freddie Knapp, two Johns—Ditch and Reynolds—from Erie, Pa., Allen Stearns of South Dayton, Ken Johnson and John Seely of Jamestown and two Dodge "500's", bearing the new racing engine now under manufacture by Dodge, from Lancaster.

And Track Manager Lenny Briggs has gone on record as assuring prospective patrons that the track parking lot is in excellent condition and remained so even under last Saturday's down-pour.

Starter Marv Thorpe will drop the green flag on the first heat at 8:30 p. m.

Warren Kiwanians Are Defeated By Kane Softball Team

Line-up for the Warren team was as follows: Catcher, L. Borg-er; pitcher, Dick Betts; short stop, F. Price; short stop, R. Wagner; first base, Bob Anstadt; second base, F. Wood; third base, Ray Johnson; left field, C. Winans; center field, H. Curtis; right field, Monroe Marshall. Manager for the Warren team was W. Sechrist.

Line-up for the Kane team: Catcher, J. Jeffery; pitcher, Paul Miller; first base, Bill Brown; short stop, Will James; short stop, Bill Rose; second base, G. Pizer; third base, L. Shelley; left field, N. Walberg; center field, D. McCune; right field, M. Coleman. Rev. C. Schultz, Warren, and Rev. J. Ramsay, Kane were the official scorekeepers.

It was necessary to make numerous substitutions during the game.

Clifford Betts of Warren served as umpire.

Co-chairmen for the event were Monroe Marshall and Bob Anstadt of Warren, and Bill Brown and Joe Galbo of Kane. A trophy consisting of a toy baseball bat went to the Kane Club as winners. The clubs are hopeful that the picnic and baseball game will become an annual event.

(Mass.) College medical student reeled off a pair of world record breaking turns in the 200-meter butterfly competition yesterday to highlight another series of spectacular performances by both the men and women in the Olympic swimming and diving tryouts.

After two days of the four-day trials in the spacious Brennan Pools to determine the squad of 46 for the games in Melbourne, records have tumbled in abundance under the onslaughts for the eager hopefuls and more scintillating feats were expected in the final two days.

Explorer Scouts Are Having Interesting Experience On Their Trip to Camp Philmont

Frederick Gaghan, Troop Reporter, submits the following interesting report of the experiences Explorer Scouts are having on their trip to Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, New Mexico:

On Tuesday, July 31, a group of Explorer Scouts consisting of Clyde Baker, George Ball, Dick Brown, Fred Gaghan, Jim Hewitt, Paul Trautner, Craig Wyman, accompanied by their leader, Elmer Morgan, left Erie at about 11:45 on the first leg of their trip to Philmont Scout Ranch, Cimarron, New Mexico. We went through a number of states, the first was the good old home state of Pennsylvania, which we would not trade for anything. We first noticed the water in Ohio when we passed through, which has a funny taste. Our first dinner stop was in Cleveland and that night we had lost a little time and were trying to make it up so we picked up what we could manage for supper which was popcorn and potato chips. A few of the other places we stopped on our trip were South Bend, Indiana, Chicago, Illinois, Kansas, Colorado, Missouri, New Mexico to either take on or leave off people as the case may be. The stop we looked forward to was Chicago where we had been told we would board a scenic cruiser for the rest of the trip. We all managed to get second deck seats. That night most of the boys rented pillows to see if they could sleep better than we had tried to sleep the night before. We woke up the next morning with not too much farther to travel. We finally reached New Mexico and our final stop, Raton, where we were picked up and taken to Philmont.

I must also say that sights all along the trip were very beautiful. But as good things are, there are also bad things in Raton a couple of the boys were stopped by a gang of Mexican boys with their knives and were asked for money, but received only five cents.

Thursday: On reaching the main ranch headquarters, things started in motion. We were shown our bunks for the night and then had our pictures taken and given our camp physicals. We then had supper and our evening free to look around and buy a few Philmont articles at the Trading Post.

Friday: Friday morning we started our first real day, when in the morning bright and early, we boarded a bus to head for our base camp Pomil,

Two-State Airport No Threat To Jamestown, Official States

Jamestown Sun: The proposed interstate airport, designed to serve Jamestown, Warren and Corry, because of its size, would not threaten airline service at Jamestown Municipal Airport, according to W. E. Cullinan, Jr., chief of Civil Aeronautics Administration's airports division.

Cullinan's statement was included in a letter read by Mayor Carl Sanford before members of Municipal Airport Commission at City Hall Wednesday. He termed the master plan for development of the local port as "sound" and said next year's program at the port will cost about $300,000 rather than the $220,000 first planned.

Also discussed at the meeting was plans for a snack shop on the second floor of the administration building at the port. It was agreed to have a special meeting to discuss the shop following acceptance of bids for the $150,000 port program scheduled for this year at 2 p. m. Tuesday at City Hall.

Cullinan's letter, which arrived Wednesday, was in answer to one written last week to him by Sanford. Included in the mayor's question was whether the city should float a bond issue to cover the cost of overall construction.

His letter in part stated, "The development of an airport to serve Warren is a possibility. The National Airport Plan for 1956, representing a 10 year forecast, indicated the need for an airport of the general secondary category in the Warren area. This category calls for runways of a maximum basic length of 3,000 feet to serve general aviation. If development of an airport at this location is proposed under the Federal Airport Program our participation must be limited to facilities of this size.

"While such an airport would accommodate the major aviation needs of Warren, its size would not present a threat to the airline service of Jamestown where an airport of the trunk category is required and is being provided. However we have no control over airports which are developed without federal assistance.

3,732 Children To Enter Borough Schools This Fall

Usual Renovating Program In Buildings Is Reported To Be Continuing Right on Schedule

The annual summer frolic of Warren County youngsters will come to a halt for the grind in exactly 27 days when schools reopen for the fall term on September 5th.

More pupils than ever before are expected to swarm back to classrooms already bulging when scholars departed last June 6.

In Warren Borough schools alone, an estimated 3,732 seekers of knowledge are expected to file through the hallowed portals on opening day. Joseph Passaro, high school principal, says he expects better than 900 to come trooping in to the antiquated structure.

Over at Beatty Junior High School, the corridors will be filled with an estimated 1,157 students. A total of 788 remained in the Gothic structure after commencement in June.

Some 158 additional pupils are expected to arrive from outlying districts. By township, the numbers transferring are: Clarendon, 14; Conewango, 81; Pleasant, 19; Watson, 6; Mead, 25; Glade, 16; Kinzua, 10; Elk, 7.

Twenty-three others are expected from St. Joseph Parochial school and 188 more from Warren schools' sixth grades.

In the elementary schools, estimated number of little boys and girls marching back as 1,673. Broken down by individual schools: East Street, 287; Home Street, 207; Jefferson, 508; Lacy, 341; McClintock, 214; Seneca, 56; South Street, 110.

And as time marches on, the burgeoning population of this area is filling the classrooms fuller. The kindergartens this fall are expected to be the fullest they have ever been and the size of elementary classes diminishes as the age grows.

Broken down into estimated total enrollments in the first six grades this fall: Kindergarten, 268; first grade, 241; second, 238; third, 242; fourth, 275; fifth, 238; sixth, 175.

A total of 59 teachers will handle the elementary pupils, making a teacher-load of 28.3 students per instructor.

Meanwhile, the usual summer renovation program at the school is continuing on schedule under the direction of Jerome Paul, maintenance manager.

Most work has been done at South Street school and the high school. Over at South, all the outside trim of the brick building has been painted and the high school shop, located at the building, has been refinished. Alterations were also made to the fire escapes.

At high school, the extensive task of refinishing the gym floors has been completed after the flood waters floated them in April. They were resanded and new lines were painted on in compliance with revised PIAA rulings. (New lanes under the basketball nets are 12 feet wide rather than the previous six feet).

Many high school class rooms

QUIET WATERS?—As a carved granite World War II memorial watches over the scene, a ship sails peacefully through the quiet waters of the Suez Canal. But the Suez situation itself was still red hot. Egypt and Russia were reported consulting on military plans in connection with the crisis and Britain was reported further alarmed when oil-producing Iraq joined Syria and Lebanon in voting to stand by Egypt in the seizure of the vital waterway.

have been painted and the cafeteria, also breached by the flood waters, now has had the floors resanded. The boiler room was cleaned and given a coat of aluminum paint, and the boilers repaired. Gym floors and kitchen floors were sanded and sealed, repairs were made to the roof.

At McClintock School, a new stretch of sidewalk more than 200 feet long has been laid along Pennsylvania avenue. Out back, a coal storage area was blacktopped. Classrooms were painted where needed.

At Beatty School work was continued on filling in the driveway at the back of the school. Mr. Paul states that a good variety of fill is still wanted back there as the parking lot enlarges. Repairs were also made to the blacktop beside Beatty School which was damaged by the flood. A partition was erected in the mummography room. Steps at the north entrance were reset and a reinforcing wall was built outside of the present boiler wall, also new steps were built to the janitor's room, and a coat of paint given to all class rooms in the new addition. Repairs were made to the floor in the second floor boys' locker room.

New window sills were installed in two class rooms at Lacy, and repairs made to coal hoppers. Class rooms were painted where necessary.

A new wood fence to protect the shrubbery has been erected along the entrance-way to Jefferson School. "Peg boards" have been added to the Opportunity rooms.

Class rooms were sanded and finished at Seneca school. New bookcases were built at Home Street School and many rooms painted. At the East Street building, the two entrances were "modernized." A new coat of paint was applied to the principal's room, window sash was painted, and a new hot water tank installed.

Warren pupils won't have too long a stretch before their first vacation. Friday, October 12 is County Institute Day and the following Monday there is a meeting of Pennsylvania State Education Association.

Jobholders in U. S. Sets a New Record For Second Month

Washington (AP)—The number of American jobholders climbed again in July to 66,635,000—setting a new employment record for the second straight month.

The Commerce and Labor Departments reported today the total of employed was about 152,000 higher than in June and about 1,700,000 above July of last year.

At the same time, the report showed the number without jobs was virtually without change from June at 2,833,000. This total represents about 4 per cent of the civilian labor force of 72 million, which includes those in the armed forces.

The steel strike in July was credited with causing only a slight increase in joblessness due to layoffs in related or allied industries. The number of strikers is not included in the total of unemployed unless they seek other work.

The report said the moderate rise in joblessness among adults about offset a sizeable decline in the number of teen-agers seeking employment.

Stainless Steel Rocket Plane Flies Through Heat Barrier at Record Speed of 1,900 M.P.H.

New York (AP)—A rocket plane of stainless steel flying through the heat barrier at a record 1,900 miles an hour lights up another field that the bright alloy hopes to mark off as its own.

Since it came out of the kitchen less than a generation back, stainless steel has gone into skyscrapers, railroad trains, automobiles, nuclear power plants and atomic submarines. And from the metal is made what probably is the world's most expensive garbage can—a nonconductive container for radioactive waste products.

Demand for stainless is now so sturdy, steelmen said, that only the tight supply of nickel—used as an alloy in many types of stainless—can put a brake on its future growth. But engineers in the Alloy Steel division of Republic Steel stress that for many uses of stainless other alloys can be used.

Stainless production, around 200,000 tons a year before the war, pushed to 1 1/4 million tons last year.

As steel workers prepare to start up the furnaces again after the strike, several steel companies are pushing construction of new stainless steel plants. Crucible Steel is adding 70 per cent to its stainless or titanium sheet and strip rolling capacity. Others have already expanded.

Other qualities than its freedom from staining are now cherished in the alloy.

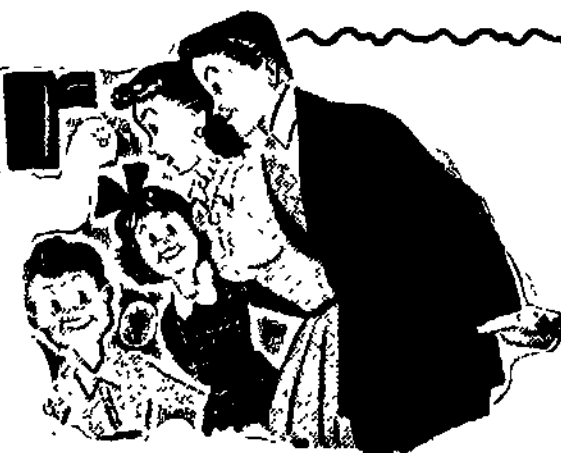

The reason that the plane that pierced the heat barrier is made of stainless instead of the usual aluminum is this: At speeds above 1,150 miles an hour aluminum alloys lose their strength in the terrific heat generated by air friction.

It is the atomic field stainless plays an added role. Republic sold 300 tons of the metal for use in the newest atomic submarine, Sea Wolf. Boron treated steel alloy can keep radioactivity from building up within the metal itself and from passing on to do damage.

The reactor unit in the electric power plant Consolidated Edison plans in the New York area is expected to take 100 tons of stainless.

Sunny Weather Could Retard Tomato and Potato Blight in State Bureau Director Reports

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

Harrisburg, Aug. 3 (P) — A state crop expert reports Pennsylvania's harvest will be seriously damaged if the unusually wet weather continues.

Dr. T. L. Guyton, director of the Bureau of Plant Industry in the state Agriculture Department, said the weather problem is particularly serious with the tomato and potato crops.

"Conditions now are very favorable for a late blight of potatoes and tomatoes," Guyton declared. He said a month of sunny weather would erase the danger, but a month of wet weather, such as

July, would increase the threat. At the same time he noted that the wheat and oat crops are in danger "unless we get some sunny weather soon." He said that in many regions the wheat crop is lying on the ground.

The possibility of continued wet weather also poses a serious threat to the apple crop.

The U. S. Weather Bureau reported that the long-range outlook for August in Pennsylvania indicates below normal temperatures and rainfall exceeding normal.

Meanwhile, the wet weather has probably curtailed the activities of some insect pests, Guyton noted.

They include grasshoppers and army worms. Other plant pests are not particularly affected by the wet weather, such as the European corn borer.

On the brighter side, Guyton said the wet weather has so far been a boon to the corn crop, though the corn borers are expected to cause as much damage as last year.

"The corn crop usually is made by the July rainfall," Guyton said.

Pennsylvania poultrymen will go to University Park Aug. 14-16 for the annual meeting of the Pennsylvania State Poultry Federation. Included in the program of the meeting are the fifth annual poultry products conference and the 10th annual poultry breeders conference.

The tree farm program in Pennsylvania has expanded to cover more than 212,585 acres throughout the Commonwealth. The acreage is on more than 320 farms. The state acreage is part of nearly 40 million acres of tree farm timber being grown in 43 participating states.

G. A. Gillett, managing director of the American Forest Products Industries, said the national total is some two million acres more than last year. Pennsylvania's acreage has grown proportionately.

"The farming not only assures regular timber harvests through scientific management, but provides multiple use of the land," Gillett declared.

"It means water and soil conservation, cover and food for wild life, better streams for fishing and ideal watersheds for reservoirs and streams," Gillett added.

The 15-year-old tree farm program was set up by the Forest Products Industries to insure supplies. Farmers and other individuals now hold 61 per cent of the country's commercial forest land. The government owns 26 per cent and industry owns 13 per cent.

Unofficial Speed Record of 1,900 MPH Is Set by Air Force

New Orleans (P) — The Air Force has set a new unofficial world speed record for airplanes of 1,900 miles an hour, but the Defense Department won't for the present allow the fact to be confirmed officially.

Lt. Col. Frank K. Everest Jr., a 34-year-old West Virginian, flew the Bell X-2 rocket plane four times as fast as a bullet travels—and close to three times the speed of sound—just last week, July 25, over the southern California desert near Edwards Air Force Base.

This was 250 miles an hour faster than the 1,650 m.p.h. attained by Maj. Charles Yeager in a supersonic ship, the Bell X-1A, Dec. 12, 1948.

Everest was here attending the Air Force Association convention when the news of his achievement leaked out yesterday.

He declined to discuss the flight with reporters, on the grounds that Air Force security restrictions forbade comment.

The X-2 is a multimillion-dollar flying laboratory, fitted with a quarter ton of instruments to measure temperatures, fuel consumption, stresses and strains at extreme high speeds.

Powered by a Curtiss-Wright rocket engine, it is the first plane to be designed specifically to explore the "thermal barrier"—the problem of ever increasing air-friction heat as supersonic planes fly faster and faster.

Play Clothes Need Slim Figures

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor

SUMMER fashions this year, more than ever, make it impossible to hide figure faults.

Even those girls who think they are figure-perfect may find extra-trim shorts help them to find bulges they didn't know they had.

The answer is, of course, wearing proper foundations under sports clothes. Every vacation or sports wardrobe ought to include carefully selected foundation garments.

Cotton is a good summer pantie girdle and bra fabric. It's sturdy, cool and easy to launder. Slim girls might pick an embroidered cotton bra with convertible straps and a cotton lace elastic pantie girdle.

Those not quite so slim might pick a dacron-cotton bra with wide straps and a wide band. The girdle for such a woman could be of open-weave elastic with a firm front and down-stretch back panels.

Foundations, like fashions, should be picked by figure type. Those with fleshy upper legs probably prefer Bermuda shorts. Under these should go a long-legged pantie girdle. Short shorts, worn by the slim, get a pantie brief underneath.

Small-bosomed girls who like close-fitting T-shirts probably need a contour bra. Full-bosomed women pick a minimizing strap brassiere under blouses or shirts. Rounded cups are the best choice for sweeter fashions for both.

Extra-slim shorts and figure-revealing tops, like this pair by Phil Rose, call for good figure control. This young lady picks a rounded strap bra and a brief panty girdle.

AUGUST DOLLAR DAYS COMING UP

Record throngs of shoppers are expected to be in Warren Friday and Saturday to take advantage of Dollar Day Bargains that have been advertised by forty of the community's leading retailers.

All readers are advised to study carefully the ads in this issue of The Times-Mirror before visiting the shopping district the next two days to take advantage of the exceptional bargains offered.

An early survey reveals a metropolitan shopping look in dozens of stores. As announced elsewhere in this issue the sales event will feature a Mystery Woman who will visit all the Dollar Day stores and give away more of the Giant Dollar Bills to shoppers, just like those awarded in a similar promotion last year. By way of reminder shoppers have nothing to do to be recipients of the "Big Bills"—the Mystery Woman will select lucky shoppers at random as she travels about the business section. Incidentally her identity will remain a secret until next week.

Be sure and shop in Warren Friday and Saturday—August Dollar Days!

3,000 TO LOSE LIVES IN AUGUST

More than 3,000 people may die in auto accidents this month if traffic fatality statistics repeat the pattern set for August in previous years, according to figures just released in the National Safety Council's annual booklet, Accident Facts.

August is usually the worst of the summer months, accidentwise.

Three out of five of the deaths will probably happen after dark.

Some 6% of the cars involved will probably have unsafe brakes or some other unsafe condition. American Brakeblok, producer of friction materials for U. S. brake manufacturers, recently reported that "nearly one-fourth of the cars inspected in one spot safety check needed work done on their brakes."

Safety Council statistics, based on reports from 24 states, also revealed that among vehicles involved in fatal accidents, failure to keep brakes in proper working order was the principal unsafe factor disclosed.

RELIGIOUS GIVING LEADS THE WAY

Preliminary reports indicate that philanthropic giving for all purposes may reach an all-time high this year with religious contributions leading the way, according to Ketchum, Inc., nationally known Pittsburgh fund-raising and public relations firm.

The current Bulletin of the American Association of Fund-Raising Counsel, of which Ketchum, Inc. is a charter member, states that denominational reports indicate increases of at least 10 per cent of the fiscal year of 1956. Protestant churches alone may report contributions in excess of $2 billion this year for the first time.

Completed totals show that all religious agencies in the country received contributions of $2,850,000 in 1954. This figure may exceed $3 billion in 1956, states the AAFRC Bulletin.

Due to the excellent planning of the director and supervisors a successful season on the Warren playgrounds is rapidly drawing to a close. Considering the inclement weather that has prevailed most of the summer the attendance has been unusually good and the interest has never abated.

Congressman L. H. Gavin will be at Room 511, Warren National Bank, Friday starting at ten o'clock to meet constituents. Considering the things that have happened locally the last six months it's a foregone conclusion he will be kept busy.

THOUGHTS FOR TODAY

For he received from God the Father honour and glory, when there came such a voice to him from the excellent glory, This is my beloved Son, in whom I am well pleased.—II Peter 1:17.

Whatever Jesus is, the glorious Godhead is; and to leave fellowship with the Son is to have fellowship with the Father. To know the love of Christ is to be filled with all the fullness of God.—James Hamilton.

Big Question

Here and There

The wave of buyers fooled on purchases from so-called out-of-town gyp salesmen again has brought a warning from business executives. The latest is said to affect home owners who were warned to be on the lookout for gyp salesmen peddling aluminum siding. A recent report said the fast-talking salesmen are victimizing residents of some areas with a "model-home" pitch that is as old as the hills. The gimmick works like this: The home owner is told he'll have his house covered with aluminum siding at a cut rate if he allows it to be used as a "model home" or "demonstration house" for a certain time. The owner also is assured he'll get a commission—$50 or so—on every sale that results. The angle according to a Better Business Bureau is that no commissions ever come the salesmen never return and the owner finds himself paying top price. The bureau said similar gyp deals are being put over among householders on aluminum roofing, garbage disposers, water softeners, vacuum cleaners, sewing machines, storm windows, metal awnings "and other gadgets." Victims have been cheated out of sums ranging from $771 to $3290 by "model-home racketeers," it has been estimated from reports on the gimmick deals. Residents have been urged to contact police headquarters or Chamber of Commerce if approached by a strange salesman with gimmick offers. Get the salesman's name and the name of the company he is supposed to be working for, it was urged. "Our best advice to the public is a bureau spokesman said is: Nobody can protect you like you can protect yourself. So buy the merchandise—but don't buy the gimmick. 'The way things are going, sooner or later you are going to run up against this 'model home' phoney."

Speaking of old-time items a reader sent Dora Barnard of the Harrisonville (Mo.) Democrat-Missourian a clipping taken from the paper at Billings, Mo., of July 1, 1888, telling of the Fourth of July celebration. As quoted by Kerwin Hoover, conductor of the columns "Hometown Flavor" and

"Grass Roots Clippings," farmers and their families drove to the scene in wagons (a buggy was a luxury few could afford). Tanks of ice water with tin cups on a wire were on hand, with everyone drinking after the one just ahead of him. The merry-go-round was run by horse power, but much fun, with rides a nickel or six for 25 cents. There were speeches, music, wheel barrow races and fireworks at night, along with the ample bakquet dinner. In the same issue were found prices paid for such items as: butter 8 cents a pound, lard the same; chickens $1.25 per dozen and old hens $1.30 per dozen; eggs, 6 cents a dozen; sorghum 30 cents per gallon; dry hides, 15 cents a pound; corn 50 cents a bushel, and wheat 75 cents a bushel, with no market for potatoes.

Mamie Keeps Long-Distance Eye On Ike's Bachelor Existence

BY DOUGLAS LARSEN AND KENNETH O. GILMORE
NEA Staff Correspondents

WASHINGTON (NEA)—Mamie Eisenhower is now enjoying her first real vacation since the President had his heart attack.

And while she's taking this well-earned rest at the Gettysburg farm, Ike is a summer bachelor like millions of other men.

After seeing Ike through his stomach operation, Mamie was extremely tired. Although she's taking it easy, the First Lady keeps in touch with the executive mansion by phone and directs housekeeping affairs.

In particular, she personally plans the food, which is more than most wives do for their summer bachelor husbands.

In addition, Mrs. Eisenhower has to answer a daily stack of mail that is brought from the capital. Of course, she and the President keep in touch by phone.

A couple of times she has come to town to shop and make sure everything is running smoothly at the White House. She usually spends the night and goes back to the farm the next day.

With the convention and the election coming up, there's no telling how long Mamie will be able to relax at Gettysburg.

"We're just living from day to day," says her social secretary, Mrs. Mary Jane McCaffree.

NO MORE big-name foreign dignitaries will be trooping into Washington until sometime next year, the State Department now reveals. For it's not considered cricket for President Eisenhower to hand out invitations until he's re-elected.

BOB LOFTUS, National Association of Home Builders staff man who went to Russia with an American delegation of housing experts, reports that eating is the most exhausting part of visiting the Soviet Union.

"For one fairly typical breakfast," he says, "we had caviar, cold sturgeon in jelly, cucumbers, tomatoes, scallions, cheese, cold sliced pork, soft boiled eggs (four to a plate), salami, stewed chicken with rice, bread and butter, and tea.

"They also served yogurt and set out vodka and cognac for the early morning set. Of course, luncheon and dinner were more substantial."

"MISS LUCY," as Sen. Walter George's Southern belle wife is known to one and all, got almost as many compliments as her husband at the $100-a-plate testimonial dinner given in his honor, on his forthcoming retirement.

"She leaves 95 broken hearts behind her in the U. S. Senate, and she knows it," said Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson of Texas.

WHEN Gen. Nathan F. Twining, U. S. Air Force chief of staff, got back from Moscow, he was asked—if he had his choice—whether he would prefer New Jersey applejack, North Carolina white lightning, Missouri moonshine, Oregon stump rum—or vodka.

"If you could get good caviar to go with those other things," he said, "they might be all right. But as long as the caviar goes with vodka—I'll take vodka."

THE NEW Pentagon ruling allowing officers to wear civvies is giving junior grade officers the willies. Here's one reason:

Navy ensign friend of ours got to talking the other evening with a gent in civvies at the bar of one of the officers' clubs here. After a bit, the older man suggested they toss for picking up the check on their drinks.

Four rounds later the unlucky ensign found himself not only several sheets to the wind but stuck with a tab for eight drinks.

"It's a sad day I ever met up with the likes of you," he muttered bitterly to his companion.

Just then a waiter leaned over and said, "Admiral, huh, you have a phone call."

That's when our friend decided it was time to take his 30 days leave.

Appearance of Advertisement In Subways Listing the Ten Commandments Fulfills Dream

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor
New York (AP)—Anything can happen in New York—even an advertisement in the subways listing the Ten Commandments and signed simply "This Space Paid for by a Friend."

accustomed to scanning ads for cigarettes and headache pills may have wondered briefly about this strange addition to subway literature. Probably some read the majestic words for the first time. And some may have found comfort or new resolution in them. That was the hope of the woman who paid for the space. It took considerable detective work to find her, and then a great deal of persuasion to convince her that it would not be bad taste to reveal her identity.

Younger Groups Are Involved In Most Boating Accidents

Adelaide O'Mara has worked as a stenographer for the New York Life Insurance Co. for 32 years, and all that time she has been riding the subway twice a day from Brooklyn to New York and back.

"It's been my dream for many years," said Miss O'Mara, shyly, after she recovered from the first shock of having her secret discovered. "It's just something I always wanted to do. I thought it might do some good."

Miss O'Mara, who lives with her mother, saved up her money for a long time to pay the $400 required to buy subway advertisements for a month. She didn't tell anybody about it, except her mother and a few close friends who were sworn to secrecy.

But for the last couple of weeks since the brave new car card has been in place, Miss O'Mara has had a warm feeling when she joined the pushing subway crowds morning and evening, and she watched to see how many people looked at the Ten Commandments. "Quite a few did, I think," said Miss O'Mara. "I saw people looking at the card. And it was placed right next to one about juvenile delinquency. I thought that was nice."

Miss O'Mara is a Catholic, but she wanted to make it clear that her action was not sponsored by her church, or by any organization.

"It's personal," said she. "A thing I wanted to do, myself."

Now that the secret is out, Miss O'Mara has been so overwhelmed by the congratulations of fellow office workers and the interest of all kinds of people that she hopes maybe somebody else might get the same kind of idea, and maybe the Ten Commandments might become a permanent part of the subway.

"I'd like to see a plan like that," said Miss O'Mara. "Maybe it could happen. I've heard it said that sometimes a small thing can change the world."

New York, N. Y.—Most of the 1,200 victims who each year lose their lives in accidents involving small boats are in the 20-24 age group, according to statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

The high mortality rate among young men "reflects, in addition to the large number participating in boating activities, their greater readiness to expose themselves to danger," the statisticians point out.

A study of death claim records among the Metropolitan's industrial policyholders reveal that nearly three out of every five insured persons who drowned were fishing; one-quarter of the victims were cruising, rowing or canoeing for pleasure; one-tenth were duck hunting, and an almost equal proportion were playing on rafts—these were practically all boys under 15.

Circumstances surrounding the deaths in this study make up a list of safety violations to be avoided by small boat users:

Small boats turned over when occupants stood up or shifted positions in the craft.

Overloading was responsible for a number of deaths.

Others lost their life because of dangerous practices such as speeding, sharp turning and horseplay near dams or falls.

A number of the persons drowned could not swim; in some instances they were alone or with fellow passengers who also were nonswimmers.

Physical weakness or impairment was a contributing factor in some deaths.

Sudden squalls, severe winds, and treacherous currents added to the toll.

Motor-driven craft, very largely outboards, were listed in three-fifths of small-boat drowning cases; rowboats, in one-fifth; canoes and rafts in virtually all the others. Sailboats, despite the popularity of sailing, appeared in the records of only two death claims.

NEA Women's Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — Corduroy looks, at first glance, like anything but corduroy this fall. The same velvety feel is there but the fabric itself may be printed or plain or plaid or stripe. Its colors are vivid and unusually beautiful.

For pre-teens, with their special figure problems, designers have done wonderful things with corduroy. They've used it for ensembles and slim jumper dresses, for clothes with lines that pare down the figure and minimize a waistline that usually makes a pre-teen groan in anxiety to add a couple of years and stretch out lengthwise a bit.

We show here two designs in corduroy for pre-teens. Reversible coat (left) has plaid printed corduroy on one side, solid color on the other. It's worn with matching skirt and (new for pre-teens) a coordinated blouse in gold wool jersey. This ensemble is by Johnston of Dallas.

Jumper dress with back-buttoned jacket (right) is in a solid color with coordinated stripes. This is by Semi-Teen.

WILLOW CREEK

Willow Creek—Pfc. Ted Cobb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Cobb, has been returned to the States and is stationed at Ft. Campbell, Ky. He has just completed a year of service in Japan with the Red Devil paratroopers.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart are parents of a son, Frederick Eugene, born in Bradford Hospital July 24.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester McLean, Warren, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Smith and family.

Mrs. Charlotte Stewart was guest of honor for a birthday gathering last Saturday evening, the members of her family present including Mr. Stewart; Mr. and Mrs. Donald Brooks and family, Bradford; Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stewart, and Marie Stewart. Lunch was served and the guest of honor was remembered with several gifts.

Mrs. Andrew Talenico, Bradford, a former Willow Creek resident, has purchased and is operating the Marilla Brook Filling Station and Grocery in West Branch.

Willow Creek—Word has been received here of the death of Mrs. Amy Cowles, of Duquesne, former resident here and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Preissler. She had many local friends. Mr. and Mrs. Preston Clancy, Pittsburgh, spent Tuesday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Clancy and visited the remainder of the week at Maple Springs on Lake Chautauqua.

Pvt. Andy Krouse, stationed at Camp Dunn, Watertown, N. Y., spent the past weekend with his mother, Mrs. Lauretta Krouse. Mrs. Krouse recently visited him at Watertown, also with her sister, Mrs. George Strawn, at Elmira.

James Brundage has been an Olan visitor recently, and, with

Air Force With New Academy Has Own Dictionary as Well

By ELTON C. FAY
Washington (AP)—The Air Force, which recently acquired its own academy, now has its own dictionary as well.

It is distributing a new, official "United States Air Force Dictionary," compiled by the Air University at Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., and based upon interviews with hundreds of fliers about thousands of different words that have special meaning to airmen.

A preface says that "although the language of Air Force people is indeed English, a certain part of it is in the nature of special usage."

Thus, in thumbing through the dictionary you find "amable cluster." Does it mean a gathering of friends? No, it is "a cluster of bombs, especially fragmentation or incendiary bombs, held together so as to be aimed and dropped by ordinary bomb methods."

And there's "daisy chain." It means a "string of two para-bundles attached to each other in which the parachute of the upper bundle is opened by the aircraft static line, the lower by a static line attached to the upper bundle."

Then there are grim and cryptic lines, like:

"Bombing encyclopedia—A collection of materials of a statistical nature used as a reference for all installations of objectives, economic or military, considered for potential strategic air attack, maintained by the director of intelligence Headquarters, USAF."

Or interesting little bits of information on weapons, tucked away behind a seemingly harmless pair of words: "circular system—a system for control guided missiles." A note says: "The missile automatically sends out a signal to two radio stations, and times and echoes to keep itself on course."

The dictionary carries words familiar to airmen of the world wars and to today's jet rockies. There is the "conked out" engine (meaning the piston-power plant quit running) or today's "flame-out" of the jet engine. It also says that a "coffee grinder" is a "piston-type aircraft engine."

There are too the gobbledygook words of government and military. Take "infatigable." That is short form for "individual is cleared for access to classified material up to and including."

A "dawg" isn't a Southern canine. It is "dynamic air war game."

If you are running low on fuel, just say "blingo."

And if something is excellent, it is "zorch."

AKELEY

Akeley—Wiltie Aid met with Mrs. Henry Peterson, Mohawk avenue, extension, Warren, with a good attendance. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Emily Swanson took charge of the meeting, with approval given several bills. Concluding, the hostess served refreshments. The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Willis Rogers, 133 Hallock street, Jamestown.

Phyllis Nelson is working at Jamestown General Hospital.

Mrs. Beulah Markell, Sackett Harbor, spent Monday and Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Hayden Pickup. Other Monday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Leland Morley, Falconer. The Pickups were at Gowanda on Saturday to attend the Pickup reunion.

Mrs. Josephine Larsen, Sheffield, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Arthur, Jr., and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Anton Lundquist, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hale and daughter, Chertow, with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Lundmark, attended the rural carriers' picnic at Mead Park in Corry Sunday.

Good Progress Is Being Made On Chautauqua Co. Thruway

Jamestown Post-Journal: Contractors are rushing work to complete the 48-mile segment of the New York State Thruway, stretching across northern Chautauqua County, by December of this year.

But J. Henry, office manager for D. W. Winkelman Company, Inc., Syracuse, one of the several contractors on the more than $15,000,000 job, says the recent steel strike may have shortened reinforcing steel supplies and put a crimp in plans for meeting the anticipated completion date of Dec. 1.

Construction on the super highway, which started in Chautauqua County in 1954, is on a "crash" basis with crewmen working day and night, he said.

When completed the four-lane highway, separated by a mall, will connect the Pennsylvania State line with the Erie County line, near Irving.

The giant Thruway already links Buffalo and New York City. The final 28-mile section in the downtown state Suffern-Yonkers area was opened to travel last December.

Still to be finished is the gap between Irving and Buffalo, which Mr. Henry said, might be delayed a little because of the steel strike.

The Winkelman Company is building an 11 mile section, starting just west of Temple Street in the vicinity of Dunkirk and running northeast Route 20 between Silver Creek and Sheridan; and a 5.27 mile segment from the Pennsylvania State Line to Barden Road, east of Ripley.

The job includes more than seven miles of access roads, nine highway grade separation structures and one railroad bridge.

Johnson, Drake & Piper, Inc., New York City, are working on 5.32 miles of the highway from Barden Road to the Route 17 interchange at Westfield.

Included in the contract are 1.94 miles of access roads, two bridges and four highway grade separation structures.

Bero Construction, Buffalo, is in charge of the 4.73 miles segment from the Route 17 interchange at Westfield to West Forest Road. The company's job also calls for construction of live highway grade structures, 2.88 miles of access roads with bridges at Bell Creek and Chautauqua Creek.

Other contractors on the job include the Yonders Contracting Company for Thruway work near Brocton, and H. L. Baughman Corporation, Rochester, for twin bridges and approaches over railroad tracks in the Town of Portland.

HALF CENTURY

Emmett, Va. (P)—Packaged groceries have a strong supporter in Mrs. Gertrude Hanks, who has tended a store here for more than 50 years. She says she can wait on her customers far faster than in the days when every store handled fat back molasses in bulk.

"Miss Gertrude" doesn't know anything about the 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. hours some stores observe, however. She arises at 3 a. m., cooks breakfast, cleans her apartment above the store and then opens for business. There are usually a few early arrivals and she weeds her garden after they depart and before other folks get up. Closing time? It is always sundown.

Downward Trend In State Farm Prices Reported Checked

Harrisburg (P)—The state Agriculture Department said today a seven-month long downward trend has been checked in prices paid Pennsylvania farmers for their products.

The department said a federal state survey showed the price decline lasted from last December to June.

"While prices received for crops took a slump during the month ended July 15, higher prices for the larger volume movement of dairy and poultry products resulted in an advance of seven points in the overall index," the survey revealed, adding:

"Nationally, lower prices received by farmers for fruit, meat animals and commercial vegetables were responsible for a 1-point decline compared with a 2-point advance during the month ended June 15.

"For Pennsylvania crops, the index registered a 6-point decline, attributed to sharply lower prices for barley and wheat. Corn, oats, rye and buckwheat prices were steady while new crop apples contributed to a 25 per cent per bushel decline.

"New crop potatoes started to move by mid-July, but sales were too few to establish a price level.

"Livestock and livestock products registered a 10-point advance as wholesale milk, chicken and egg average prices were up from a month earlier. Wholesale milk averaged $4.45 per hundred pounds up 35 cents from June and 10 cents above the July 1955 average. Milk cows advanced $10 to average $195 per head.

"Chickens averaged -2 cents higher per pound liveweight than on June 15, but at 21.8 cents were 47 cents below mid-July a year ago.

"Prices received by farmers for eggs averaged 44 cents a dozen, up only 2 cents which was less than the usual June-July rise."

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—If a veteran dies without selecting any option of payment, how will GI insurance proceeds be paid?

A—If the veteran has not selected a method of payment, the insurance proceeds will be paid to his beneficiary in 36 equal monthly installments. The beneficiary, however, has the right to choose some other method of settlement, so long as it is not a lump sum payment.

Q—I am a Korea veteran, and I have just returned to active military duty. Will I lose my eligibility for a GI loan while I'm in-service?

A—No. So long as you have become eligible for a GI loan through a prior period of service, you remain eligible, even though you have returned to active duty.

Q—I am a cadet at a Service Academy. Will this time count toward my eligibility for Korean GI Bill schooling?

A—No. Time spent as a cadet or midshipman in one of the service Academies does not count under the law toward your eligibility for GI training.

Q—How does VA determine the date a GI insurance premium is paid? Is it the date the veteran mails his check, or is it the date VA receives the check?

A—The date of the postmark on the envelope is considered as the date the insurance premium was paid.

Court Dancer Plays a New Role

She Plots Trouble for Nation's Enemies These Days

Katie Tourkia poses as she was seen at the Court of the Shah of Iran when the 22-year-old Iranian miss was a dancer.

Monitoring telephone call at the Air Defense Filter Center, Canton, Ohio. Katie talks with co-observer Effie Thomas.

CANTON, Ohio — (NEA) — A one-time dancer before the Shah of Iran, 22-year-old Katie Tourkia now works on a different kind of platform—the plotting board of the Canton Air Defense Filter Center.

Born on the Russian border in Pahlevi, she grew up in the Iranian capital of Tehran, and only came to America two years ago.

"I thought while working for my citizenship," she said, "it would be well to take on some of the responsibilities for protecting this country, so I joined the Ground Observer Corps."

Learning something new is old stuff for Katie, even if taking on a new country is a large-scale endeavor for anyone.

SHE SPEAKS FIVE languages—Iranian, Russian, Armenian, Turkish and English—most of them learned in night school. In another school, she learned the typing which qualified her for a job in a Canton, Ohio, insurance firm.

Her hobby, at which she excels, is Oriental dancing, an offshoot of her early membership in an Iranian athletic club. After taking acrobatics in school, she moved on to interpretive dancing. She appeared in Iranian shows, a movie, and danced many-times in the Royal Palace. She first attracted the attention of the Shah's brother, Ahmed Rexa, and it was he who paid her a medal for her performance by giving her a medal for excellence.

When her pictures appeared in Iranian language magazines, a professional dancing career loomed. But Katie was more interested in following the example set by her two sisters, who came to America ahead of her.

THEY WENT A LITTLE farther than Katie has, however—one of them is the wife of former Capt. Kenneth K. Kirk, of West Covina, Calif., and the other is married to U.S. Air Force T/Sgt. Thomas R. Strong, of Canton.

Katie speaks excellent English when performing her Ground Observer Corps tasks, and nobody who calls in from Ohio observation posts to give aircraft positions dreams he's making a report to a palace dancer.

"If she got mixed up in her languages," shuddered the filter center commander, Major Robert B. Medley, "and answered the phone—'Air Defense, Go Ahead'—in Russian, I can just imagine the shock to the guy on the other end of the line."

"He'd probably think the Russians had arrived before his report and say, 'Never mind'."

3 Africans Killed by Lions; Most of Victims Are Herdsmen

By E. A. JONES

Kampala, Uganda (AP) — The attack as a heavy body landed the roof. A terrified mother and the thatch being ripped to pieces. A lion seized her and leaped through the hole he had made. In the morning her half-dead body was found within 200 yards of the hut.

The man-eating lions of Ankole district, Western Uganda, had struck again. In the last year they have killed 43 persons, all adult Africans.

The raiding of a hut was an isolated instance.

At night the cattle are herded to thorny corrals called bomas. Lions attack the bomas, breaking rough at a weak point. The cattle form a solid phalanx at the her end. The huge-orned Ankole cattle are a formidable foe.

The lions mill round them, trying to panic them into a stampede. Then they can select one and bring down.

In defense of his cattle, the African herdsman knows no fear. Cabbaling with his six-foot spear, he tries to drive the lions off. They leave the cattle and go for the man.

Maneaters usually are old or maimed animals, unable to bring down stronger or fleetier game, who turn to human flesh in the extremity of hunger. But this is not the case in Ankole.

"Any American sportsman who wants to shoot lion would be very welcome in Uganda," said Deputy Chief Warden C. R. Owen. "He would have his fill of the most dangerous sport in the world—putting his wits and courage against maneaters—and he would earn the gratitude of a whole population."

After a year of terror in the Ankole area, the morale of the African population is broken. They refuse to believe that the killers are mortal animals. They are reincarnations of dead chiefs, say the natives, returned to wreak vengeance on those who opposed them in life.

To track a lion down in this terrain is almost impossible.

The only way to get to grips with a maneater is to sit up at night over a fresh kill and wait for it to return. But the maneater develops special cunning and often will not return.

These Days Dieters May Have Their Cake and Eat It Too

By HOWARD C. HEYN

Pasadena, Calif. (AP)—So you're on a diet? Well, cheer up, fatso; it was a lot worse 20 years ago. These days, you can have your cake—and eat it too.

This, in substance, is the message being spread by some 500 producers and purveyors of specialized foods, assembled here for the 18th convention of the National Dietary Foods Assn.

A sizable industry has grown from the fact that dieting once was, but needn't be, a very dreary chore. Nonfattening foods used to be plain foods. Canned diet foods, packed in water, formerly had all the flavor of an old paper napkin. The result: monotony sent the dieter's morale plummeting along with his weight.

Dieting still isn't exactly fun, as this fat reporter can attest. But modern processing methods and a wide array of sugar substitutes now offer a new interest in life for many a calorie counter.

Almost all the things once denied a dieter were on display at the convention yesterday—in very special form. Chocolate nougats, for instance. Protein value high, calorie value 19 apiece, low.

There is a very passable butter substitute made from soy oil. Lake Jelly? Any flavor you can think of, one calorie per spoonful. Dietetic mayonnaise, once pretty pasty, tastes much better now, at 10 calories per spoonful.

You don't even have to give up pie. Low calorie fruit fillings come in cans, with dietetic mixes to make the crust.

Sugar-free chewing gum and lollipops are big sellers, delegates say.

Most cakes and cookies are for skinny people, but there are a few for us chubby fellows too, at 19 calories each.

Health is the by-word of the convention. But there is one noticeable thing about the delegates: an amazing number of them could stand a little dieting.

Summer Program for Children At Public Library Comes To Close With Delightful Party

This summer's reading program for children in the Warren Public Library came to a close with a party in honor of all the boys and girls who participated in the storming of the castle. During the game's six-week period, 73 children read and gave brief reports about books selected from the library shelves. Each report advanced a reader's knight on milestones along the path to the cardboard castle, past "trees," "boulders," "lakes" and "crevasses," and even a clay dragon with a menacing look. When the fifteenth book was finished and reported, the knight was safe inside the castle, but many of the children continued to read, just for the fun of telling about the stories they enjoyed.

Barbara Gross, 221 Main Avenue, and Jack Daelhausen, 16 Crescent Street, enthusiastically read 50 books each, thereby winning prizes for reading the most books.

Susan Walls, 29 Glenwood street, and Dennis Cogswell, 224 Canton street, were first to reach the castle, and they also were awarded prizes.

Certificates for completing the game were presented to the following boys and girls: Linda Ahlgren, Cathy Bacon, Jean Benze, Mike Cauley, Mary Davidson, Dennis Cogswell, Jack Daelhausen, Fan Fanaritis, Barbara Gross, Kristi Hanson, Betty Jo Henry, Jane Lauffenburger, Kitty Laurich, Ann Lewis, Linda Mahan, Ilze Matulis, Helene Louise McClure, Terry McMahon, Susan Monaghan, Robert Moorhead, Christina Sandblade, Jane Scholes, Mary Lynn Sheigreen, Mary Jane
